Lawrence Paul Yuxweluptun

February 3 - February 24, 2018

Opening Reception Saturday Feb 3rd 2pm – 4pm

I have been an artist all my life. It's been my life's goal to portray the negative and positive realities of this world. I'm interested in recording history: residential schools; global warming, deforestation, and pollution; worldwide concerns such as the hole in the ozone layer; environmentalism, humanities, humour, and existentialism. I'm involved in history painting in a way that is dealing with these issues, because they were born before my time.
